

Finding The Area Of A

Square

Square is the most basic quadrilateral. It is a shape where all sides are equal to each other and every vertex makes an angle of 90 degrees.

To obtain the are area of a square we just multiply the length by itself. (L^2)

$$\text{Area} = \text{Length} \times \text{Length}$$

The Area is $unit^2$

Enter the Length value

Please note opening this interactive page as a PDF though GOOGLE CHROME and MICROSOFT EDGE has been tested , other applications may also work. Unfortunately this might not work with mobile devices.

If you find any difficulties please feel free to contact us – Press here

Done by JJ International